Logging Reading in Beanstack

You'll be asked what you want to log. Children ages 0-11 will log minutes. Teens ages 12-17 and adults will log books.

Type in how many books you read or how many minutes you read. You can list book titles and authors if you want to, but they are not required. Click the yellow log reading button to log your reading. Adults earn 1 ticket for each book they read and teens earn 2 tickets for each book read.

Children earn 2 tickets for every 120 minutes they read. Once one of those milestones has been hit, the reader will earn a ticket(s) that they can enter into the raffle drawings for grand prizes.

Days that have reading logged are marked with a dot.

Prize information

Children ages 0-11: Log minutes spent reading or listening to books. Earn prizes, coupons for free food, and other goodies for every 120 minutes of reading. Read 600 minutes and you'll receive coupons for free goodies and a free book. Every 120 minutes logged earns 2 tickets for the grand prize raffle.

Teens ages 12-17: Log books when you have finished reading. Earn prizes, coupons for free food, and other goodies for every book read. Read 5 books and you'll receive more coupons for free goodies and a free book. Every book logged earns 2 tickets for the grand prize raffle.

Adults: Adults are entered into weekly drawings for prizes for each book they log that week. They get 1 ticket for each book read and those tickets can be used to enter the grand prize raffle. Adults can log up to 50 books. Once you hit 50 books, you will have completed the summer reading challenge and you will no longer receive tickets for any books logged.
